

POLYGON LAUNCHES POLYGON RECOVERY FUND

LONDON, March 08, 2011 - Polygon Global Partners LLC announced today the launch of the Polygon Recovery Fund.

The Polygon Recovery Fund is a portfolio of less-liquid, mainly private equity legacy Polygon Global Opportunity Master Fund (PGOMF) assets which are being wound down in a self-liquidating investment vehicle. The structure of the fund allowed investors in the PGOMF the option to redeem out or roll into the new fund while honoring their high water mark. This fund is closed to new investors.

About Polygon

Polygon is a broadly-based asset management business established in 2002 with the objective to provide attractive investment opportunities with superior risk-adjusted returns in partnership with its investors. Polygon's products are managed by experienced and respected investment teams and are designed with terms and transparency suited to their respective opportunities. The firm owns majority and minority stakes in asset managers that sit on a common state-of-the-art platform, and has offices in London, New York, and Tokyo.
